Dorothy O'Dean Beeken
was born on June 13, 1922, at Hot Springs,
Arkansas, to Algie Edmund and Alphia Matthews Gossett. She graduated from the Carthage High School.

O'Dean worked at the post office, John's Business College in Hot Springs, and for the Civil Service in the postal department at Army Navy Hospital in Hot Springs.

O'Dean
was married to Robert Beeken at Hot Springs
on December 1, 1945.
A son, Bobby Dean, was born to this union on

February 13, 1947.
O'Dean helped Bob on the farm with sheep, cattle and haying.

Later in years, she worked at the Pool's Department Store and became part owner of the store with Dot Gast. She worked for Dr. Lyle Suche in the veterinary clinic for many years, clerked at the sale barn and farm sales, all the while continuing to help Bob with the haying and restoring of tractors.

O'Dean enjoyed reading,
crossword puzzles, crafts, and cards.

She was preceded in death by her parents, husband Bob and her son Bobby Dean. She was also preceded in death by her sisters Fay and Vera and their husbands; a brother Ray of Lake Charles, Louisiana; and brother and sister in law Tom and Martha Beeken.

Survivors include her niece, Trivia, and husband Bill Durley, and Ravenna of Texas, many nieces and nephews, and special friends, Ralph and Karla Nansel.
